Mayor Villaraigosa Praises the WIB's Efforts in Getting L.A. Back to Work

At the Workforce Investment Board's (WIB) Annual Meeting on July 18, 2012, Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa lauded WIB members for their successful efforts in assisting employers in finding qualified workers and job seekers in obtaining gainful employment, especially during this time of unprecedented economic turmoil and joblessness.

"The best practices in workforce development are happening here in Los Angeles," said Villaraigosa, who cited as exemplary practices the WIB's industry sector workforce development programs, industry sector intermediaries, and the recently implemented youth workforce development system that focuses on school dropout prevention and recovery. He noted that the U.S. Conference of Mayors has, on numerous occasions, invited City of Los Angeles Community Development Department Assistant General Manager Robert Sainz and WIB Executive Director Gregg Irish to its national events to highlight various WIB undertakings.

Also at the Annual Meeting, the WIB accepted a three-year, $12 million Workforce Innovation Fund (WIF) grant from U.S. Secretary of Labor Hilda Solis to increase workforce development services to an additional 1,380 youth under the City's OneSource System and $2.3 million of supplemental funding from the California Multi-Sector Workforce Partnership to provide a myriad of re-employment services to dislocated workers; added the slogan, "A Proud Partner of the American Job Center Network" to the City's Adult WorkSource System and Youth OneSource System's name/brand, and approved the design elements of a procurement CDD will conduct to select contractors/service deliverers under a planned South Los Angeles Initiative.

Mayor Villaraigosa commented, "All of the WIB's actions complement what I've been doing over the past two years to urge Congress to enact a comprehensive transportation bill and convince voters in Los Angeles County to consider extending the half-cent sales tax (Measure R), both of which will facilitate funding for transportation and highway projects and create or save about 170,000 jobs over ten years." WIB Chair Charles Woo mentioned, "The WIB has been endeavoring to create a pipeline of trained and skilled workers for the resultant infrastructure projects."

Mr. Woo was re-elected by his WIB colleagues to another one-year term as WIB Chair. He has had the distinction of serving in this capacity under four Mayors (i.e., Tom Bradley, Richard Riordan, James Hahn and Antonio Villaraigosa). WIB members Nona Randois and Patricia Perez were, respectively, elected as WIB Secretary and WIB Treasurer.

The following WIB members were appointed by WIB Chair Charles Woo and confirmed by the WIB as WIB Standing Committee Chairs:

John Donner, Advocacy Committee

Patricia Perez, Business Services, Marketing and Development Committee

Michael Dolphin, Nominations/Membership Committee

John Hughes, Policy and Oversight Committee

Diana Peterson-More, Training and Supportive Services Committee

David Crippens, Youth Council

WIB members Richard Benbow, Bill Dahlman, Ruth Lopez Novador, and Kenn Phillips will join them as members of the WIB Executive Committee.

The Mayor's new appointments to the WIB, to serve a two-year term through June 30, 2014, include Anthony M. Hassan of the University of Southern California (USC) School of Social Work, Louise McCarthy of the Community Clinic Association of Los Angeles County, Don Ott of Metro, and William Scoles of the State of California Department of Rehabilitation.

Mayor Villaraigosa and WIB Chair Charles Woo took time out from the Annual Meeting to present official City resolutions thanking the following outgoing WIB and WIB Youth Council members for their service to the cause of workforce development:

- Roberta Jefferson
- Arthur T. Leahy
- Frank Miramontes
- Ed Morris
- Darold Sawyer
- Frank Velasco
- Willie Zuniga

The WIB is looking forward to a very impactful year tackling the issues of unemployment and workforce preparation in Los Angeles, and welcomes the participation and input of the public in its deliberations.
