

10 Things to Know About $1 Million Tax Break

 Article was originally posted on [www.constructconnect.com ]

By Conley Smith,

Are you thinking you'll be busier in 2021 than in 2020? If that's the case—it may be a great time to add new construction software or new or used equipment and deduct all of it on this year's taxes.

Call it a win-win for small-to-medium size businesses, Section 179 of the U.S. Tax Code allows businesses—including those who make their living in construction—to expense $1,040,000.

This deduction is good until the total equipment purchased for the year exceeds $2,590,000. Once your purchases exceed that number, the deduction is reduced on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

The only catch—you must purchase and start using any software or equipment before the clock strikes midnight on Dec. 31, 2020. To help you get your arms around the ins and outs of this tax break—we pulled together some FAQs.

Here are 10 things you should know when claiming your Section 179 tax deduction:

1. How Much Can I Write-Off?

You can only write off the amount you spend on qualified purchases. For example, if you spend $10,000, you can write off $10,000. Also, you can't deduct more than your profit. If your business only has $100,000 in profits, you can only deduct $100,000.

This means if you buy $50,000 worth of equipment, you can deduct the entire $50,000 from your taxable income. At a 35% tax rate, that would result in a net tax savings of $17,500.

2. Is There a "Phase-Out Threshold"?

Yes, it is $2.5 million. This means a business can spend up to that amount in total equipment before the $1 million limits begin to be reduced dollar for dollar.

3. Are There Any Other Rules To Be Aware Of?

Yes, any purchases—from trucks to software—must be used for business purchases more than 50% of the time to qualify for the deduction.

4. How Much Can I Save on My Taxes This Year?

It depends on how much qualifying equipment and software you purchase and put into use this year. This Section 179 Calculator can show your expected tax savings.

5. What Sort of Construction Equipment Qualifies?

Most tangible business equipment, both new and used, qualifies. This means production machines and related equipment; office machines and furniture; computers and common software; safety equipment; most signage; business vehicles in excess of 6,000 pounds gross vehicle weight (including heavy equipment); and more.

Also, Section 179 is not affected by how a company pays for the purchase. In fact, many companies like doing this because the tax money saved almost always exceeds the payments made during the calendar year.

The equipment listed below must be purchased and put into use between January 1 and December 31 of the tax year you are claiming. It can be new, used, purchased, leased, or financed:

- Equipment (machines, etc.) purchased for your construction business
- Tangible personal property used in business
- Business vehicles with a gross vehicle weight in excess of 6,000 pounds
- Computers
- Computer "off-the-shelf" software
- Office furniture
- Office equipment
- Property attached to your building that is not a structural component of the building
- Partial business use (equipment that is purchased for business use and personal use: generally, your deduction will be based on the percentage of time you use the equipment for business purposes)
- Certain improvements to existing non-residential buildings: fire suppression, alarms and security systems, HVAC, and roofing

6. What Software Qualifies?

For basic eligibility, the software must be "off-the-shelf," like takeoff and estimating software.

This means it has not been substantially modified and is available for purchase from the general public. It must also meet all the following general specifications:

- Purchased or financed with specific qualifying lease or loan
- Used in your business for income-producing activity
- Have a determinable useful life
- Must be expected to last more than one year

7. What Are Section 179 Nonqualifying Property?

Most normal business equipment purchased for your construction business will qualify. Here are some examples of the property and equipment that will NOT qualify:

SBA Export Loans Help Bring Jobs Back Home

 Article was originally posted on [www.sba.gov ]

By Loretta Greene,

A growing number of businesses are bringing production and jobs back to the U.S. from overseas. SBA export loans are being used to help finance this “reshoring.” Much as the market demand for quality, “Made in America” goods and services are increasing worldwide, U.S. businesses are also becoming conscious of the value of compact, efficient supply chains and locally controlled operations.

Recent studies indicate “reshoring” is likely to increase in the coming years to assure supply chain resiliency, greater quality control, intellectual property protection, lower transportation costs, and access to America’s highly productive workforce.

Suppose you have a customer planning to bring production back home to the U.S. In that case, SBA-backed commercial loans can help capitalize the reshoring of facilities and equipment, obtain working capital to operate their revived U.S. operation and finance any necessary debt restructuring associated with re-shoring their business activities.

By tapping the best level of assistance, SBA offers – a 90 percent loan guarantee on loans up to $5 million – the majority of U.S.-owned businesses can qualify for an International Trade Loan if:

“Reshoring” is part of a business plan to grow sales in foreign markets. Businesses can qualify even if anticipated export sales will be less than a majority of their sales or if they intend to sell only one product abroad. Businesses can also qualify if they only sell to foreign buyers indirectly – e.g., as part of a supply chain or an intermediate distributor – may also qualify.

Or if:

“Reshoring” is part of a plan to respond to significant foreign competition that has cut into their U.S. market sales. Businesses that currently operate abroad but sell to the U.S. market can take advantage of an International Trade

Loan too. These businesses must demonstrate an adverse impact on their business due to import competition.

And actually, businesses that never left the U.S. can also take advantage of SBA’s 90 percent export loan guarantee programs. The “onshoring” financing described above is also available to any U.S.-based small business seeking to increase their foreign sales.

The SBA has a specialized suite of enhanced loan guarantees to help small businesses secure the financing they need to grow their business’s international side. International Trade Loans, Export Express, and Export Working Capital Program are each designed for a particular need.

Contact your local SBA Export Finance Manager or contact your local SBA district office – <https://www.sba.gov/exporting> -- to find out more.

10 Things to Know About $1 Million Tax Break

- Real property like land, buildings, permanent structures, and the components of the permanent structures, including paved parking areas and fences
- Property used outside the United States
- Property that is used to furnish lodging
- Property acquired by gift or inheritance, as well as property purchased from related parties
- Any property that is not considered to be personal property

8. How Long Do I Have To Purchase?

Section 179 always expires at midnight, December 31st. To take advantage of Section 179 this year, you must buy (or lease/finance) by December 31, 2020.

9. Can I Use Section 179 Every Year?

Yes, Section 179 can be used every year. It was made a permanent part of our tax code with the Protecting Americans from Tax Hikes Act of 2015 (PATH Act).

10. What’s the Difference Between Section 179 and Bonus Depreciation?

Bonus Depreciation is taken after the Section 179 deduction is taken, which is helpful for very large businesses spending more than their Section 179 spending limit. Also, businesses with a net loss in a given tax year qualify to carry-forward the Bonus Depreciation to a future year. When applying these provisions, Section 179 is generally taken first, followed by Bonus Depreciation—unless the business has no taxable profit in the given tax year.

COVID-19 and Section 179

Over the years, Section 179 has evolved into one of the most effective small-business tax deductions available. With so many construction projects put on hold, delayed, or cancelled in 2020, this tax break is more important than ever.

Even if you received Paycheck Protection Program or other COVID-19 related funds, the Section 179 write-off is still applicable as long as you follow the guidelines. It is also likely you can write-off equipment you purchased to modify your workspace for COVID-19, such as plexi-glass dividers, air filtration systems, sanitizing stations, or new servers for work-at-home teams.

As always, ask your accountant or tax professional for the final word on your Section 179 purchases.

Grow Your Business with SBA’s Contracting Assistance Programs

 Article was originally posted on [www.sba.gov ]

By Francis Spampinato,

If you are looking for ways to grow your clientele in 2021, consider doing business with the federal government.

The federal government aims to award at least 23% of all federal contracting dollars to small businesses each fiscal year. The federal government exceeded this goal in fiscal year 2019, awarding 26.5% or $132.9 billion in federal contract dollars to small businesses.

Federal agencies achieve small business contracting goals in a few ways. For starters, to help provide a level playing field for small businesses, the government limits competition for certain contracts solely to small businesses. These contracts are called “small business set-asides.” Some set-asides are open to any small business, while others are open only to small businesses that participate in SBA contracting assistance programs.

Geared toward specific sub-sets of business owners, contracting assistance programs help small businesses win federal contracts through mentorship and exclusive contracting opportunities. Many small business owners have used SBA’s Nibbi Brothers has been selected as the General Contractor for the 4840 Mission Street project in San Francisco. We are in receipt of the Bid Set and are currently requesting bid proposals from qualified subcontractors including those certified as SBE's for DIV 02-33. The Contract Monitoring Division (CMD) has set the SBE participation goal for this project at 20%. We strongly encourage SBEs to bid and participate on this project. For more information about the San Francisco SBE program as it relates to this solicitation please contact Mr. Selormey Dzikunu at the City and County of San Francisco Contract Monitoring Division via email Selormey.Dzikunu@sfdpw.org. Proposals are due no later than 2:00pm on Friday, January 15, 2021 online via the Building Connected website. Please note a completed Bid Form will need to be submitted for each trade/bid package you are bidding on in order to be considered. The required Nibbi Bid Form is now located electronically via BuildingConnected. 4840 Mission Street will be one of the first major developments in the Excelsior District in nearly 25 years. This unique mixed-use development will extend from Mission Street, the Excelsior's commercial "Main Street," through to Alemany Boulevard, a major residential boulevard. The plus/minus 1.5-acre project site is currently occupied by the Valenti Marini Perata Funeral home. This large site provides a unique opportunity to establish a mixed-use, affordable housing development that includes quality public spaces, commercial spaces as well as providing a new home for the community-based Mission Neighborhood Health Clinic. The overall development site is plus/minus acres and includes up to 137 below market rate affordable rental units over a new plus/minus 10,000 square foot Clinic and a plus/minus 6,000 square commercial space. 100% of the units are affordable. The development includes 39 residential parking stalls that are not visible from the street that are located partially below grade and accessed from Alemany Blvd at the lowest end of the site. Mission Street, being the high-quality transit corridor, supports the proposal for providing minimal parking for the affordable housing, prioritizing residents who do not own or require individual vehicles, as San Francisco's transit first policy.

contracting assistance programs as stepping stones on their path to success. For example, SBA's 2020 Small Business Prime Contractor of the Year Diana Lewis Jackson, President and CEO of Action Facilities Management, Inc., was a former participant in SBA's 8(a) Business Development Program, which provides technical assistance, business training, counseling, and more.

Learn about SBA's contracting assistance programs and consider whether one could be a good fit for you:

- Women-Owned Small Business Federal Contracting Program: Specifically intended for women-owned small businesses (WOSBs), this program helps participants tap into the 5% of contracting dollars that the federal government aims to award to WOSBs each year. Learn more about recent changes to the certification process for WOSBs and Economically Disadvantaged WOSBs here.
- 8(a) Business Development Program: This program is geared toward small businesses owned by socially and economically disadvantaged people or entities – a group that the federal government aims to award 5% of contracting dollars to annually.

- Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Business (SDVOSB) Program: The federal government aims to award 3% of contracting dollars to SDVOSBs each year.
- HUBZone Program: This program fuels small business growth in historically underutilized business zones (HUBZones) with a goal of awarding at least 3% of federal contract dollars to HUBZone-certified companies each year.
- All Small Mentor-Protégé Program: This program enables small business owners to get valuable business development mentorship from an experienced government contractor. The program benefits both parties because mentors and protégés in the All Small program can form joint ventures together. This allows the mentor to qualify for set-aside contracts that the small business protégé is eligible for.
