By ConstructConnect Project Research,

The accompanying tables show the top 10 major upcoming entertainment facility and stadium-arena construction projects in the U.S. They are all in the planning stage and are mainly new projects, but may also involve additions and/or alterations.

Shopping centers, hotels, office buildings, medical buildings, educational buildings, libraries and museums, sports and entertainment complexes, industrial projects and government buildings will all be covered on a rotating basis.

There are several reasons for highlighting upcoming large projects. Such jobs have often received a fair amount of media coverage. Therefore, people in the industry are on the lookout for when job-site work actually gets underway. And, as showcase projects, they highlight geographically where major construction projects are proceeding.

Finally, total construction activity is comprised of many small- and medium-sized projects and a limited number of large developments. But the largest projects, simply by their nature, can dramatically affect total dollar volumes. In other words, the timing and size of these projects have an exaggerated influence on market forecasts.

Success Stories

Ay Dios Mio, San Jose

[Article was originally posted on <https://www.californiasbdc.org/story/2116>]

BACKGROUND

Ay Dios Mio was founded by Rose Mendoza in 2009. Chicana born and raised in California, her goal is to share her lifelong passion of preserving and celebrating Latino culture, through a fantastic collection of Latino ‘arte popular’ decor, jewelry, bags, accessories and vintage religious products. Ay Dios Mio a unique ‘boutique de arte popular’ representing Mexican Folk Art & Latino Urban Lifestyle located in downtown San José.

CHALLENGES

Rose was looking to expand her retail business through short term goals designed to generate adequate revenue and profit margins, enabling her to focus 100% on business expansion.

Once target revenue goals are met, Rose wants to develop product branding and licensing with hopes of eventually franchising her business.

ACTIONS

Initial meetings between Rose and her Business Advisor focused on sales and marketing goals. They planned and hosted cultural events at her brick and mortar establishment in order to increase store foot traffic. The SBDC also helped Rose network with other SBDC clients that shared the same passion for preserving, and sharing Latino culture. In addition to hosting events, and networking, Rose attended one SBDC business class and has attended non SBDC classes in licensing, franchising and company legal formations.

RESULTS

Rose was able to obtain a credit card for use in purchasing inventory. She was also able to expand her business and hire two additional part time employees that help manage her retail location while she is working in the company sales booth at community events. In one year Ay Dios Mio’s sales have increased 9%, and estimated a 15% sales increase.
