Statement by the President on the Confirmation of Maria Contreras-Sweet to Lead the Small Business Administration

U.S. President Barack Obama shakes hands with Maria Contreras-Sweet (L) after he introduced her as his choice to be the new administrator of the Small Business Administration during an announcement ceremony in the Eisenhower Executive Office Building of the White House complex in Washington, January 15, 2014. With the bipartisan confirmation of Maria Contreras-Sweet as the next Administrator of the Small Business Administration, the American people will have a fierce champion who understands what it means to start a small business, and who has a proven track record of helping other small businesses succeed.

As the founder of ProAmerica Bank, Maria helped provide loans to small businesses that needed them, especially within the Latino community. Maria also served the citizens of California as Secretary of Business, Transportation, and Housing, becoming the first Latina cabinet secretary in California history and playing a critical role in ensuring that entrepreneurs and small business owners across her state had access to the capital they needed to start and grow their businesses.

As we work to keep our economy growing, Maria will be charged with looking for more ways to support small businesses. Two years ago I elevated the role of Small Business Administrator to a cabinet-level position to make sure small businesses have the seat at the table they deserve. I'm confident that as the newest member of my cabinet, Maria will do an outstanding job working with me, with America's small business owners, and with my entire Administration to increase economic growth and expand opportunity for all.

Senate Confirms Maria Contreras-Sweet to Lead SBA

of acting administrators have filled her shoes, most recently Marianne O'Brien Markowitz, a former regional director for the SBA.

Much of the business community applauded Contreras-Sweet's confirmation.

"Ms. Contreras-Sweet brings with her a strong background in business lending and will serve SBA's core competencies well," said the National Small Business Association in a statement. Prior to her nomination, Contreras-Sweet had founded and served as chairwoman of ProAmerica Bank, a commercial bank focused on providing loans to Latino entrepreneurs.

The International Franchise Association also voiced its support. "Maria Contreras-Sweet's impressive background in the public and private sector will ensure the administration fills the long-standing void left by former Administrator Karen Mills, who was a strong champion for the small business community and the franchise industry on a multitude of public policy issues," said IFA president Steve Caldeira.

Earlier this year, both the National Association for the Self-Employed and the National Association of Development Companies gave the thumbs up to Contreras-Sweet.

However, business leaders also acknowledged the significant challenges facing Contreras-Sweet as she begins her role as SBA Administrator, especially given the agency's recent lack of permanent leadership.

"The SBA provides many critical resources for America's small businesses, from lending programs to technical assistance to federal contracting support," said NSBA President and CEO Todd McCracken. "It is high time the SBA have a permanent, Senate-confirmed Administrator to move the agency forward."

The Small Business & Entrepreneurship Council was more pointed in its concerns. Yesterday, the House Small Business Committee voted to alter the SBA's proposed budget.

"SBE Council looks forward to working with Administrator Contreras-Sweet. I encourage the new Administrator to reach out to the small business community immediately as she will be challenged with getting the agency back on track and focusing on its core mission," said Small Business & Entrepreneurship Council president Karen Kerrigan.

"The House Small Business Committee voted unanimously yesterday to alter the SBA's proposed budget. The plan as well as SBA operations were strongly criticized by both parties for wasting money through mission creep and instituting programs that are duplicative or not authorized by Congress. So as the SBA went on whims with new programs, its core ones suffered," added Kerrigan.

Kerrigan also said she hopes Contreras-Sweet will spend less time pushing ObamaCare, and more time working to cut back on regulations that hurt small businesses.

The NFIB declined to comment on Contreras-Sweet's confirmation or her nomination earlier this year.
